ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Joe Reis has been a practicing Nurse Practitioner for the past 12 years. He graduated from WVU and completed a post Master's program at Washington State University. Mr. Reis has lectured nationally on Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and related trauma issues. He has published both locally and on a national level. Although his area of expertise is Trauma, his local practice in Wheeling, WV is open to any psychiatric clients.

Melissa Mealy is a Cancer Information Specialist with the WV Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Program. She earned her bachelor of science in Psychology and a minor in Social Work from West Liberty State College. Melissa went on to obtain her masters in Mental Health Counseling from Franciscan University of Steubenville. Melissa has worked as an Extension Educator with West Virginia University Extension Service in Brooke County with Family Consumer Science responsibilities.

Melissa Adams, Abstinence Educator with the Gabriel Project of West Virginia, Inc., teaches abstinence education in middle schools and high schools, youth groups, and community settings. Adams trains youth and adults on the dangers of sexually transmitted diseases. She teaches the social emotional consequences associated with being sexually promiscuous. The abstinence program serves Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, and Marshall Counties and is funded by the West Virginia Office of Maternal, Child, and Family Health.

Anne Guio is a Registered Nurse with more than 20 years experience in Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing and Administration; with her primary focus being children and adolescents. She was previously certified as a Psychiatric/Mental Health RN. She has a Masters Degree in Business Administration and is currently the Director of Marketing and Development at Crittenton Services, Inc. She has done numerous trainings and workshops on depression in children and adolescents, eating disorders, treatment planning, team building, documentation and quality issues.

Cheryl Kaczor is the Region 6 Adolescent Health Initiative Coordinator, serving Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, and Wetzel Counties. In this capacity she works with community-based organizations such as schools, churches, and youth and community groups to help develop programming related to healthy youth development using the Search Institutes 40 Developmental Asset framework. She has her MS in Community Health Promotion from West Virginia University and her BS in Home Economics Education from Rutgers University. She previously taught Middle and High School Family and Consumer Sciences.

Angie Linger, MA, CPS II, received a Master's degree in Leadership Studies from Marshall University and a Bachelor's degree in Behavioral Science and Criminal Justice from Glenville State College, and she is a certified prevention specialist. She has been working as a community development specialist, providing technical assistance to enhance West Virginia's prevention system for over 5 years. Angie works for the WV Prevention Resource Center and serves Gilmer, Wirt, Wood, and Calhoun counties.
