

Continuing Education

Organization	Link and Description of Resource	Types of Credits Available
American Cancer Society	www.acsjournals.com/ce The American Cancer Society welcomes you to their learning site for continuing education (CE) activities on select articles in CA: A Cancer Journal for Clinicians. All CE activities offered in CA are free of charge. The activities cover all aspects of oncology, from cancer prevention and diagnosis to treatment, palliative care, and survivorship. Choose an article of interest to you and successfully complete the quiz and evaluation to earn continuing medical education credit or continuing nursing education contact hours.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Journal-based CE activities offered free of charge. Quiz and evaluation earn medical education credit or continuing nursing education contact hours
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Podcasts	http://www2c.cdc.gov/podcasts/browse.asp Browse the site by topic. Podcast topics available include breast & cervical cancer, HPV infection, HPV vaccine, HPV vaccine safety reports, steps you can take to prevent cancer, secondhand smoke, healthy living, and more.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No CE
GW Cancer Institute's Online Academy	http://gwcehp.learnercommunity.com/cancer-institute The GW Cancer Institute's Online Academy offers a number of training and education opportunities for health care and public health professionals to help advance patient-centered care and evidence-based public health practice. The Online Academy website provides free online trainings that are accessible to clinicians and cancer control professionals across the country. There are a variety of courses. Most have a link to a flyer that offers information for each course (target audiences, what participants have access to, and instructions for logging in and registering for the course).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> CE credits available for nurses and social workers
Medscape CME and Education	http://www.medscape.org/multispecialty?src=ppc_google_acq_cme_eta&qclid=Cj0KCQjw1a3KBRCYARIsABNRnxs2yy7EhvZUjswuQ5fTKTJybUwJG-2af6ogrRvrhLtJBvAGJq-XW8oaAn1QEALw_wcB Join Medscape and have access to journal articles, clinical briefs, webinars, and patient cases related to cancer and many other diseases. The website also has information about drugs and access to videos related to various health topics. Get unlimited access when you create a Medscape account.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> CE Some courses are free and some courses may have a fee.

Continuing Education

Organization	Link and Description of Resource	Types of Credits Available
NetCE	https://www.netce.com/ This website offers online continuing education credits for WV RNs and LPNs. At this time courses are offered in Pharmacology, Geriatrics, Oncology, and more.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • CE – cost varies for each course
National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) Learning Extension	http://learningext.com/help/p/courselisting.aspx This website offers over 50 online courses and features a Live Chat option. This online catalog can help you select the best course for you, while obtaining the specifics of each course. The catalog provides information about the course audience, objectives, and requirements, and testimonials from nurses who have completed the course. There are also tour videos available for an overview of each course. Contact hours and CE are available for compassionate care, ethics and professionalism in nursing, standards of practice, nursing instruction, and more.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contact hours • CE • Some courses are free and some courses may have a fee.
Nurse.com	www.nurse.com This website offers free nursing continuing education through self-study. The site contains information about state required CE. Information is available through seminars, webinars, CE courses, CE series and information about state CE requirements for RNs. A wide variety of topics, including breast and cervical cancer, HPV vaccination, and women's health issues are offered.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contact hours • CE • Some courses are free and some courses may have a fee.
Online CEUs, A Directory for Nurses	http://www.nurseceu.com/free_nursing_ceus.htm Free nursing continuing education offered. The courses are listed along with the contact hours offered and cost. Courses are offered for breast cancer, women and cardiovascular disease, women's health, end-of-life care, prostate cancer, and more. Webinars are also available, with contact hours listed.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contact hours • CE • Some courses are free and some courses may have a fee.
Public Health Foundation - TRAIN	http://www.phf.org/Pages/default.aspx The new TRAIN Learning Network site has officially launched with a modern design, mobile-friendly features, and more. Learn how to use the new TRAIN site by accessing the Help section, which includes video tutorials, job aids, and FAQs. Go to the website, click on TRAIN, and browse through Courses, Training Plans, and Events.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Free CE is offered for some trainings, webinars, podcasts, and classes, Certificates are available to other trainings.
WV Immunization Network – Movie	CE available for viewing the movie “Someone You Love: The HPV Epidemic”. To register to see the movie, go to https://sole.hsc.wvu.edu/public/selfenroll/2861 .	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 1.5 hours CE