Capitol Market at the Capitol to Open July 12

Capitol Market will reopen its summer farmers market at the State Capitol Complex on Wednesday, July 12, at 11 a.m.

“Capitol Market at the Capitol,” a joint effort between numerous state agencies, brings fresh West Virginia fruit and vegetables to the Capitol Complex weekly. The market is open every Wednesday through August 30 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and is located next to the fountain behind Building 1.

“This weekly market provides state employees and visitors to the Capitol grounds the opportunity to enjoy West Virginia-grown produce, promoting both our West Virginia farmers and healthy lifestyles, a win-win for everyone,” said First Lady Gayle C. Manchin, who will attend the market opening. Commissioner of Agriculture Gus R. Douglass, DHHR Secretary Martha Yeager Walker and Director of the Division of Natural Resources Frank Jezioro will also attend the opening ceremonies.
